EXPERIENCE

Full Stack Developer Oct 2024 – Present
QuikQuery Part-time, Remote

- Built and owned a greenfield, full-stack RAG dashboard from scratch using Nextjs, integrating OpenAI APIs to deliver AI-powered features.
- Designed and deployed an interactive, embeddable chat widget focused on user experience, engagement, and responsive web design.
- Integrated third-party platforms such as Notion, Google Drive, Confluence, and Zendesk to improve system interoperability and web application functionality.
- Authored and maintained AWS Lambda functions to automate backend processes, increasing deployment efficiency and enabling scalable architectures.

- Diagnosed and resolved a wide range of frontend and backend bugs, significantly improving application stability and reliability.
- Independently shipped production-grade, full-stack features with rapid test-deploy cycles, owning features end-to-end from architecture to release.
- Optimized key modules and reduced page load times, boosting responsiveness across devices and improving performance metrics.
- Followed best practices in testing, code reviews, and CI/CD workflows to ensure high-quality, production-ready code.

Front End Developer
Elmintad

Mar 2024 – Nov 2024
Full-time, Remote

- Collaborated closely with UI/UX designers to convert Figma designs into responsive, high-performance Next.js code, improving user satisfaction and interface quality.
- Developed the company's main website to showcase corporate information, features, and services, with a strong focus on frontend architecture and performance.
- Created a secondary website with consistent branding, responsive layout, and smooth user interactions to support business growth.
- Ensured cross-platform optimization by translating Figma designs into mobile-friendly, scalable Next.js components.
- Improved SEO and application performance metrics to increase visibility, user engagement, and responsiveness.
- Designed and developed a mobile application for hotel bookings and transfer services, demonstrating skills in cross-platform development and frontend engineering.
